Challenges of Global Megatrends: Mobility, Data, and Global Trade

This webinar will once again bring together Tax Directors from large multinational companies across different industries to discuss key international tax issues relevant to their roles. The discussion will focus on global megatrends shaping today's tax landscape, including risk management in an environment of increased global mobility, the valuation and taxation of data in the context of growing reliance on AI, and the management of risk and compliance complexity in custom policies and global trade.
